Branching Out

We entered high school as one group, bound together by the nervousness and confusion of freshman year. By the end of our turbulent first year, we began to find our place by joining different sports and activities. By our final years of high school, we are confident with who we are, and begin branching out and finding our own niche. We have taken the foundation we were given as underclassman, to find different activities, different jobs, different friends and different dreams.

Next year many of us will leave for college. Our class will expand across the globe pursuing our goals, but as far apart as we are and as many different lifestyles we live, we will always have our roots at Westboro High School; we will always be a part of one another.

Breakfast of Champions

Story by Erin Kelly; senior class vice president and host of our tie-dying event.

T-Shirts and Breakfast Start Our Senior Year Off With A Blast!

The Satuday before school started, the Class of '98 came to my house for our first Senior Event: the annual T-Shirt tie-dying. We caught up with friends we hadn't seen all summer, got excited for our last year at WHS, and of course, we tie-dyed everything from t-shirts and socks, to fingers. After a fun afternoon, we decided we were definately "Ready to Escape!"

We made plans for the Senior Breakfast. We joined our friends on the first morning of our senior year to share our spirit and our hunger. We united as a class in the parking lot before we even entered the building. Now that's another story....

Lindsey Stockwell, Megan Mc Grath, and Jenn Freeland bask in the glory of their senior year, while chowing down at the Bronx Bagel.

Matty Mello and Matt Hodgens demonstrate their senior spirit!

Leigh Roderick and Jill Boucini take a break from the senior activities.

With a smile, Craig Goldman and Shara Freeman eat breakfast.

Jill Lizotte shows her natural ability to tie-dye t-shirts.

First Day

Time for the show. That's all it was to me. We are seniors hear us roar...

Many of the seniors met in the lower parking lot. Team 98' was armed and ready to go. Confetti, streamers, silly string, and lunchmeats were popular choices of weaponry. Ready and anxious to make our mark on Westboro High, we gathered at both entrances. They new we were coming, the element of surprise was not an option. I radioed to team member Shara, " Ready, go! " We stormed the lobby, the path was already clear. No one was going to get in the way of Team 98' this morning. The chant began, " 98.. 98.. 98.. 98 ", as the sky of our lobby opened up, our gifts to the kind janitorial staff covered the floor. The " 98' " pinata exploded with candy and cofetti, making a nice addition to the new decor of our lobby. I watched. I listened. I took it all in. I was proud of Team 98'. We nuked the school with spirit. Explosions of class pride, and unity rocked W.H.S's foundation. The Class of 98' had entered the building.

Our first practice run for our final day of school went well.

- Josh Sigel, '98

Am I really a Freshman? This can't be right, I'm an actual 9th grader in Westboro High school. I figured this day would never come. I was nervous about high school having gone from being a big shot eighth grader to a little Frosh. Did I stand a chance in high school? I felt like I had a little edge on most freshman, because my brother was a senior. He'd showed me some of the ropes to high school . Before I knew it the lobby was crowded with Seniors chanting FRESHMAN, FRESHMAN, in my face. Different objects were being thrown from the balcony. I got a pound of glitter dumped on me, and now kids would probably start calling me glitter boy. My classes seemed O.K. Every teacher had different ways of welcoming us. It turns out that being a freshman is overrated. Things aren't as bad as everyone make them out to be.

- Zachary Sigel, '01

"You know you're dirty!" was the new sales pitch shouted at the oncoming cars. The yearbook staff had once again come together for an afternoon of fun-filled fundraising. Though the money we made was insubstantial, the fun we had was tremendous. From the first moment we arrived there was much excitement as editors, Lauren Grimley and Stephanie Day set off the school alarm. Our first car had arrived; a Westboro cruiser. The rest of the afternoon proved to be as eventful as the first few moments. There was tons o' suds, hose fights, and sun(burns). With the music blairing, we washed on and rinsed off. As the afternoon dwindled to a close, we ate our annual pizza with dish-pan hands. As we piled into our cars, preparing to head our separate ways, we realized that although our money box was light, the time that was spent together was a profitable experience.

As the evening overflowed with fun and laughter, we knew this would be a night to remember. At the end of the night, as we danced to our theme song, "I Will Remember You," the Class of '98 realized that these are the memories that will last a lifetime

So many times throughout the year, school seems only a long interlude to the ultimate goal...Summer vacation!! Now it is all just a matter of leaning back, relaxing and enjoying the break. Each and every person has their own idea on how to "get away from it all". Centerstage kicked off the summer with their "birthday" field trip to Chuck E. Cheese on the last day of school. For many the search for a summer job was on. With the constant need for money, many applications were filled out and jobs around town were quickly taken. Now with money in hand, students set off to make the most of their short-lived freedom. Many teams headed off to various sports camps to perfect their skills and build team unity. Even the yearbook editors went away to refine their computer skills. Much of the school flew away with families or groups. Twenty-one kids in SYF, took on Disney World for four days. NFTY spent six weeks in Israel. Students weren't the only ones getting away form it all, faculty head out on many trips. Mr. Della Cioppa took students on a trip to Salamanca for three weeks. The Rotary Land Mark was filled many mornings as students gathered to catch up with each other or just hang out. While every one as getting away from it all a lot of people were just as happy to stay at the high school for Centerstage's "All in the Timing ". Summer and driving school filled the high school many summer mornings as students sacrificed their extra sleep for the sake of a passing grade or a license. No matter how the summer was spent, fun and rest were easily found.

At first our journey seemed so long-our destination out of sight. We began with anxious anticipation, and quickly found our places for the ride ahead. Along the way we have tripped and stumbled, we have raced ahead, and rode on cruise control. The scenery often looked the same, but we were always moving. The people that we have met along the way have made the long ride worth while. Now, we have come to the stop light of our high school career and we are ready to turn our separate ways. When the light turns green, the experiences we have had and the things that we have learned, will form the map that guides us.

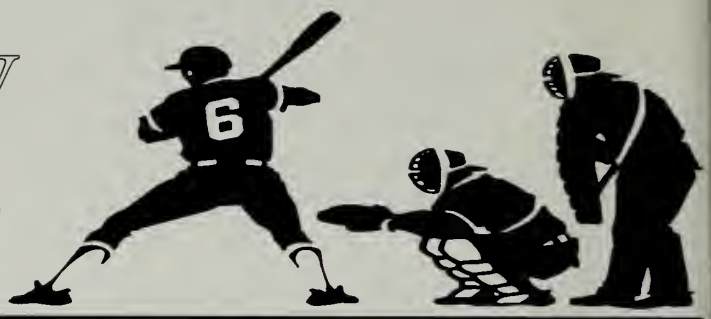
Summing Up Senior Year...

Senior Faculty Softball Game



Team '98 was ready to win. We had trained all year and we were ready to conquer the faculty. Appearently the faculty got a glimps of our rigorous training habits and felt it was necessary to recruit big hitters from other nearby schools. We started out on a steady pace. The teachers began to get scared. Inning by inning the unified team '98 struck with force. Our spirit overwhelmed the teachers, they could not handle the preasure. It was our turn to do the schooling. Due to some mishaps Team '98 began to fall short on the score board. This was okay. The victors in this game were not measured by score, they were measured by looks, smarts, and athletic ability, thus Team '98 were the true winners.
-Josh Sigeal '98

With a cool look of determination Megan Flynn shows the faculty what they are up against.

Top: The Class of '98 shows their school spirit with a huge turnout to kick off their senior year.
Above: Even with a small team the faculty proves that they can be a winning combination.

Top Left: Matt Larosse is ecstatic after running into the drainage ditch to make the play of the game.
Left: Shara Freeman, Josh Sigel and Joe Condon take a breather.
Top: The Senior team provides support to those on the field.
Above: After a long game the teams shake hands. The faculty looks on towards next years game as the Class of '98 takes in their first event as seniors.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Peg Orff

12/12/33-9/16/97

A Memory of Mrs. Orff
by Joleen Coons '98

As I walked through the door of my first period Spanish class, freshman year, I noticed we had a substitute. A lot of us hadn't seen her before. She was average height and thin, with blonde hair and glasses. No one to be intimidated by - so we thought.

The bell rang and class began. From the start, she let us know what would not be tolerated in class. She was very firm and did not let up. Her name was Mrs. Orff. She was also known as the suspension teacher. Everyone behaved quite well for this woman that day. However, I began seeing her in classes more often and soon she helped tutor a friend and myself in math. Never had I seen a total change in someone's personality before. One day she explained to me that to be up front with the kids was the only way to go. And she had been right. Everyone gave her respect and never tried to pull a fast one on her.

Mrs. Orff was a wonderful person inside and outside of school. Those who knew her admired her greatly. She gave much of her time to people and it was appreciated. She has been one of the few people that I have known who have wanted much to help me in succeeding. She gave off a positive energy that made me feel so confident about myself. Only three years of my life had been spent side by side with this woman. She cared so much about me as well as other students and friends. Mrs. Orff not only took the time to help academically, but also personally. Not a day went by when she didn't show concern for someone around her.

As you all know, Mrs. Orff passed away about a month ago. For anyone who knew her personally, they are probably still feeling the pain from such a great loss. But it's only more painful for those who didn't know her because of the wonderful woman that she had been. It's a shame to have to lose people that have so much influence in your life. I have no regrets though. My time spent with her was filled with love and happiness and this is what I will take with me everyday.

Rena Parab

July 18,1980- Jan.30,1991

"I didn't know her personally, but I saw the impact she had on people's lives and I was deeply touched."
-Kristen Farrar

"The one thing I remember is that she was always smiling... and she always had a joke to tell."
-Rebecca Katcoff

You can tell when you've met a truly amazing person when you realize how their life has impacted your own. Rena's life was short, but remarkable, and made a deep impression on everyone she knew. It always touched me how positive she was and how concerned she was for others, with such a weight to bear. She wrote beautiful, mature, poetry, always had a joke to tell and a game to play. Her constant smile, courage, and genuine friendship continues to inspire me.
-Rebecca Irwin

Rena was wise beyond her years. Recently, I was reading my All About Me booklet from Mrs. Rists third grade class. Rena's letter stuck out from the rest. The vocabulary was impressive, and she took the time to write something unique about me. She could have written her college essays right then!
-Katey Berkeley

For my college applications I had to write an essay about a person who had inspired me or changed my life, and I picked Rena. At a younger age Rena taught me how important it was to get the most out of everyday and appreciate the little things in life.
-Kara Vautour

Rena,
We can't know why the lily has so brief a time to bloom in the warmth of Sunlight's kiss upon it's face,
Before it folds it's fragrance in and bids
the world good-night to rest it's beauty in a gentler place.
But we can know that nothing that is loved is ever lost,
and no one who has ever touched a heart
Can really pass away, because some beauty lingers on in each memory of which they've been a part.
Gone from our sight
but never our memories Gone from our touch
but never our hearts.
We will always love you RENA
-Parabs.

As Juniors in Westborough High School, The Class of '99 has had a great year. So far in our three years, we have had dances, car washes, candy sales and many other activities that have unified our class and brought us closer together. We have more plans for our class including the pasta supper and Russ Burgess next Year!!

As all the stress associated with prom draws near and as we are pulling clumps of hair out of our heads by the handful, we know that it will be a success. We have a great class and we have had some great times. Good Luck to '98 and to all!

Merideth Young reaches for the ball

And we wanted it more! This was the story behind our success. A team of eleven "jolly" juniors and six "super" seniors. The "super" six seniors repaved a path to victory, for the underclassmen to follow. Tri-captain Maura Dudley led the way with her incredible determination to hold the team together. Alison Deysher, tri-captain, would fly down the field with grace not allowing anything to stop her, except a horseshoe. Tri-captain Meg Grady would blast out of the backfield to initialize each play. Sam Erickson applied her extraordinary "foot fire" defense to charge past every player, Rebecca Irwin with her awesome stick jabs stole the ball from the opposition, and Aimee Topping backed up the defensive unit with her aggressive style of play.

The juniors were tremendous and each equally contributed to the team's great success. We all worked together and capitalized on each play. The JV team, the "silly" Sophomores, were incredible, losing only one game the entire season. Congratulations on a great record. The Freshman team worked extremely well together and acheived several goals. The Freshman, like Varsity and JV, played to the last second and never gave up. Awesome season for all three teams. The fact that we were "best friends" assured our success. Thank you!

Getting Your Kicks on the Field

Coming off of a dismal previous season, with a record of 1-15-2 and only six returning seniors, expectations for the 1997 season were not very high. Fortunately, we felt differently. We knew that we possessed the talent and the heart that it would take to get us to our eventual goal, districts. The mixture of the seniors, an extremely talented group of under classmen, and a great coach, Greg Allen proved to be a winning combination.

We started the season off in the right direction with a 5-2 win over division one powerhouse Leominster. The season had many highlights, one of which was a 1-0 win over previously undefeated division one Milford. This win earned us the respect we deserved and gave us the confidence that we needed to achieve our goals. We rounded out the season with a greatly improved record of 8-8-2, earning us our first district appearance in five years. With a solid group of underclassmen returning, we feel that they will have no difficulty in maintaining and building upon the level of play that we've established this year. Thanks for the great season.Ryan Travis, Scott Alcusky, Jarrett Tolman, and Matt Hodgens.

Eric Siegel waits for some action to come his way.

Soccer 1997. . .we set a team goal in the beginning of the season, and for the first time in years we knew we were capable of reaching it. We were district bound and ready to compete against the hardest competition.

This season we made an important transition. We were no longer a young team re-establishing a soccer program, we were a group of experienced soccer players. We were seventeen individual girls growing together as a strong team.

We wish next years team the best of luck, and here are a few helpful hints from your awesome seniors:

1.) Always put the corner flags away to avoid lappers.
2.) Don't complain about the three miles because it is actually 2.5 miles.
3.) Don't have pasta parties at Papa Gino's with Algonquin boys.
4.) If at all possible, avoid land mines and gysers on the soccer field(Shara).
5.) Always make Baker carry equipment.
6.) Bring earplugs to block out coaches encore.
7.) Imporve the Sara Eckland drill.
8.) Make it to districts.
9.) Don't follow Emily Hendricks and start rumbles with the other teams.(Lauren, this applies to you!)
10.) Konk Algonk(@#%^!*)!!!!

Be the Bunny

The Westborough Women's 1997 Cross Country Team ended their season in an exciting and well earned 9-1 record. It was no surprise with the excellent talent, unity and spirit, that the team had this year. With our only loss being to Algonquin, it proved to be a truly successful year. Finishing 3rd at Leagues and 7th at Districts also reflected the improvements the team had made.

Cross Country takes hard work and dedication. There's no benchwarmers and there's no time outs. It's a sport that takes both mental and physcial capability. Coach John Doyle proved this with his motivating pep talks that reminded us to work from the neck up as well as from the neck down. He taught us to believe in ourselves and we can accomplish just about anything.

Led by tri-captains Ashley Hobbs '98, Carrie Jackson '99, and Liz Lucas '99, the goal for this season was unity. It was important to all of us to be friends on as well as off the field. It's safe to say that by the end of the season we all knew each other well. (Sometimes too well.) We had accomplished the unity that was needed to help the team in their success.

Congratulations to the 1997 Cross Country teams and good luck in the future seasons.

Mark Read and Rob Sickorez take their strides with pride

The 1997 Cross Country team had its most successful season in many years, winning the Wachusett Invitational and finishing the regular season with eight wins and two losses. The determination, hard work and pride of every member created a strong, cohesive and victorious team.

From our first runner to our last, everyone contributed to this phenomenal season. Without any stars, we relied on our tight pack to win tough meets. Led by the veteran members, our solid base of talented and motivated young runners showed strength in numbers, capturing several upset victories against rival teams. After our incredible regular seaton, our first place finish in the Wachusett Invitational reflected the effort and hard work given by everone on the team. By never running away from a challenge and attacking the most difficult obstacles with confidence, Westborough became a force to be feared.

Continuing traditions from past years, awards were given to recognize key contributors to the team effort. The Golden Shoe Award, given to the freshman who best embodies the spirit of cross country, was presented to Mike Palmieri '01, whose team spirit, pride and hard work were integral to our success. Mike Panas '00 earned the Most Improved Runner Award through his outstanding mental and physical development over the course of the season.

For the tight and strong Rangers cross country team, the future holds much promise.

In only its third year, Ranger Volleyball rose to new heights; pushing its best season record ever, 13-5. The Rangers made districts for the second year in a row. Despite a disappointing loss in districts, the program still remains strong. As co-captains, we led the team to killer conditioning sessions that enabled us to be in our best shape. First year coach, Kevin Cantwell, brought the team to a higher level with intense drills and refinement of skills. Hopefully, the volleyball program will continue to grow and be successful in the future.

SPREADING THE SPIRIT

Nobody knew what to expect for football cheerleading. We had a new coach, Ms. Vallee, and a brand new batch of freshmen hopefuls. We began the season working hard, learning and teaching cheers to the newcomers. Everyone got involved with the spirit of the football season. We overcame many obstacles and in the end, united as a team. Each girl brought her own special uniqueness and talents to the squad, making it a memorable season for everyone involved. Thanks for the memories!-Apple picking!

Shooting for Success

This year proved to be an exciting year for the Ranger basketball team. Co-captains Tavis Paquette and Joe Condon along with the other seniors created a strong team despite losing many players last year. One highlight of this season was the game against Nashoba where Tavis scored his 1000th point. The whole team continued to pursue the Rangers reputation of excellence guided by the excellent coaching staff of Coach LaDuke and Coach Billadeau. Good luck to next year's team.

Girl Power

Our tough defense led to victories that showed in our improving record, and were expressed in our hearts. We came together to overcome a challenging schedule consisted of other well developed opposing teams. Each opposition feared our great man-to-man defense, and our hustling offense. We played to our potential every game, and never left with our heads down. Leadership was covered by every player on and off the court. The three seniors will miss the hardwork, and great spirit of the underclassmen.

The junior varsity had a terrific season, and dominated in every match. There is great potential for the years to follow. Thank you Coach Mike, Sarah, and our new awesome assistant coach Rob Richardson.

Thanks,
Marge and Erin

RANGER HOCKEY A BIG HIT

Eight seniors formed the nucleus of the 1997-98 Westborough High Hockey team. Senior forwards Craig Golden, Dan Hubbard, Jeff Lapointe, Sean O'Connell and Alex Rickov, goalie Matt Olson and co.-captains and defensemen Scott Alcusky and Drew Peckham know what it means to build a winning tradition.

When we were freshmen, we won only two games. Our sophomore year we won 10 and qualified for the district tournament for the first time in many years. Last year our record was 14-5-2, including a 3-0 victory over Algonquin. This year our goal is to win the Quinn Conference and continue our tradition - "We Never Quit." We will remember coaches Chet Hallice, Greg Rota, and Ed Belbin for their dedication - those 5:30 practices were tough on them too.

We leave the program in good hands. Juniors: Jamie McPherson, Chris Amorelli, Ricky Pratt, Ryan Gregory, John Maguire, and Diane Hunter will wear the cardinal and white with pride. Sophomores: Jeff Lemery, Jon Kemble, Jared Woollacott, Kevin Moynihan, and Mark Ruane are the stars in the making. Freshmen: Matt Cullen and Joe Sanginaro represent the future of Ranger Hockey.

It has been a great ride.

The Inside Track

This year the indoor track season began with many changes. The girls were under a new coach, and the team consisted of less than half the number of the previous year's team. Although our season seemed doubtful because we were such a small team, everyone worked hard and in the end many records were broken. Liz Lucas shined in this year at the 600 both the girls invitational and districts. Adam Bramson, a new face this year, became a great competitor in the 300. Many school records were broken this year. Maura Dudley broke the hurdle record, Erica Lin and Alex Marino broke the 50 yard dash records. Against all odds, seniors Rob Sickorez, Jake Nunley, Sam Erickson, and Stacy Eliopoulos with their strong team spirit lead our team through our "Building Year."

Jill Pollack-"Full Speed Aback!"

The team had a wonderful season this year under the guidance of new head coach Bethany Bergemann, and the leadership of Co-Captains Susie Sherman and Dave Howland. The team especially benefited from the fast swimming of the underclassmen, who wasted no time shattering most of the team records. Powered by Mrs. Sherman's bagels and Capri Suns, the team's motivation and spirit never ceased. Although we've yet to understand the ill side-effects of Papa Gino's pasta parties before practice, we arrived at all of our meets on time, completing an impressive 8 and 3 season setting the precedent for next year's team. For the swim team's second season, we have come a long way, and the speed and talent of our freshman, sophomores, and juniors promise to lead next year's team to victory. All that is left to say is: TACO, BURRITTO.....

Susie and Dave...ummm...ok.

I'm so proud of the things we have accomplished this year. I have seen the team go from nine girls my freshman year to fifteen this year. Not only have we become stronger individually, but as a team as well. We accomplished something we previously thought impossible, we beat the state champion Algonquin team. We couldn't have done any of it without the support of our fans. Congratulations to Joc, our only graduating senior, who had her best season ever and did so much to unify the team. Good luck Joc!

Softball Cheer

Flynn and Freeman
the Junior Princesses, who rocked the infield, cranked the homeruns, their outgoing attitudes were nothing less than fun.
Beth Culhane and Meredeth Young, two underclassman pitchers who always got the "job" done.
Two Quimby's, two Goede's we had sisters everywhere, there were too little positions to share.
Our three freshmen, Sylvestri, Mohnihan, and Kaiser, made a silent addition to our softball expedition.
Finkle and Sturgis, the heartattack pair, Sturgis always had to wear her head gear.
Ms. Debish and her Forrest Gump drill, she knew how to make our five hour practices a thrill????
The 1997 softball season was a blast, Districts will soon be here at last.

At the beginning of the season, the main thing on everybody's mind was that we were going to be a young team; four seniors, seven juniors, four sophomores, and one freshman. Unfortunately, for the teams in our league, we did not live up to this image. Everybody played their game to full potential. The captains showed strong leadership and kept everybody's mind in focus. By the end of the season, we had met our prelimanary goals. We emerged as the Mid Watch B League Champions and qualified for the District Tournament.

The Track team fought against tornado strength winds and cold monsoon like rain. However, no natural disasters could have slowed this team down. As a team and as individuals, we strived for something better. Mark Vautour, the Clarks, and Jake Nunley proved that hard work does pay off. Matt Bailey showed Greg Pratt the ropes at pole vault. Eric Bennett and Susie Sherman broke school records in discuss and javelin, respectively. Emily Monro, Jenna Sunkenburg, and Nicole Bucini strongly represented the frosh. Maura Dudley, Katherine Ryan, Liz Lucas, Katie Stevens, Kate Quinlan, and Haley Thompson were all awsome, and full of spirit. Track isn't about winning it's about knowing you put in your best effort, and feeling accomplishment. The track team gave it their all and the whole team benefitted . The team started the season with high expectations considering the great players the team had. The two of us teamed up with Tamara Truta to form our 1-3 singles while the rest of the team rotated around the positions of our 1st and 2nd doubles. With an outstanding effort, the team made it into districts. Although we only made it to the 1st round, the bus rides will never be forgotten and the friendships will never end.

Thank-you to the team coaches, Mrs. Mathieu and Mrs. Roney. Without their determination and skills, the team would not have reached the success that it did.

Seriously Excellent

And seriously fun, that's the only way to descibe this year's fall play The Crucible, by Arthor Miller.

The cast started with a trip to Salem village and witch museum, where they learned about the time period and were able to view a mock trial of an accused witch.

Unlike previous years, this year's play was not "the feel good play of the year". The play's serious content surprised the audiences.

The excellent combination of two wonderfull director's, a super cast, and great tech, made for a preformance worthy of the state festival.

Pippin

Standing in the light booth and looking at a darkened stage, I felt my excitement rising along with the oooo's from the cast. Thanks to the talented orchestra, the great people doing technical work, and the phenomonal performers, the quirky musical Pippen had two wonderful nights of laughter, music, romance, and bloody dismembered limbs. The Leahy/Jost team's eternally understated talent and patience coaxed yet another sensational production from the students. Kerrilee Lambert's choreography and dance instruction made everyone look graceful performing her moves.

Making the show was a lot of fun and hard work, and I'm thankful to know and work with such terrifically talented people. (They're cute, too!) Thanks to everyone that made the experience that I won't forget. Think about the sun.

CENTERSTAGE

ACTING IT UP

Centerstage has been a part of Westboro High School's preformance arts program for 10 years. Centerstage gives students many opportunities to participate in thearter arts. Students are able to act, direct, work backstage; and with the improv troupe, develop their improvisational acting skills.

The 1997 fall play was "The Crucible", which, with it's dramactic and moving performances showed Westboro that the Centerstage can do more than comedy.

The Festival of Student Directed One Act Plays allows many students to show both acting and directing abilities in a night full of twenty to thirty minute commedies and dramas.

The Musical this year was "Godspell". The musical brings together Centerstage and the music department to produce two evenings of drama, music, and dancing.

Ode to math team

I am dedicating this verse
To the greatest team in the universe.
We may not wear unis,
or use referees,
but despite how it may seem
we are definitely a team..

Well, you may say,
what do they do all day,
with their calculators
pencils, and protractors
Honestly, I sometimes don't know.
But its something good,
as their sucess does show.

So the next time
you hear of cos, tan, or sin.
think of our members
whether it be may or september,
Then show 'em some support, for the problems they try to make work.

Go Dorks Go!
Well, we started off the year with high spirits. Yet again we planned to make cool tie-dye's to muster up team spirit. Unfortunately, our plans never materialized. However this didn't stiffle our preformance on the day of the meet.

We arrived at the High School bright and early. Phil was armed with coffee in hand, and Stephanie even remembered her calculator. After enjoying our free donuts and juice we headed off to a grueling day of tests.

Hard work payed off. We ended the day with three awards. Lauren Grimley and Katherine Kellett won ribbons in art and english, respectively. And Phil You-are-the-man Weinrobe recieved a GOLD medal in music. Who would have guessed!

Anyway, it was a wonderfull year thanks to the coaching of Mr. Hebert, Mrs. Brunyak, and all of the other teachers who so graciously prepared us for the day of the meet. Good luck to next years team!

Love your co-captains,
Stephanie Day & Lauren Grimley

The 1997-1998 student council changed. We had a new faculty advisor, Mrs. Regan, and many new ideas. We drafted and approved a mission statement and an up-dated set of by-laws. Despite bad weather, the concession stand was a success. This years officers: Mark Inman, Megan McGrath, Kristina Shultz and myself, along with the other members, pushed for events to promote school community. These events included a spirit week, carnations for Valentine's Day, a three-on-three basketball tournament, and a student-faculty basketball game. The student-faculty basketball game benefitted the Peg Orf Scholorship fund.

Good luck to next year's student council and the Class of 1998.

Students Against Destructive Decisions

The year began with a new name; Students Against Destructive Decisions. By becoming a group we can help fight the battles against destructive decisions such as Drunk driving, using/abusing drugs, destructive decisions that degrade a student.

If you're at a party just remember there is no need to drink or use drugs to improve yourself, because they don't. This year, we tried to project the truth that fun comes from oneself not from substances. We are all role models. We created a strong cornerstone for the up coming leaders.

Students Against Destructive Decisions started with five voices and grew to thirty-seven. If in a year a group can form to improve the community, just imagine what we do in a lifetime.

Editors Megan Handley and Emily Gupta are smiling on the outside, but are stressing on the inside.

Once upon a time
some many years before,
the Literary Magazine
was thought of and formed.

What we are, is a group organization,
that compiles poetry, prose, and art
into a yearly publication.

Into each English class
the mailboxes are distributed,
so that students compositions
can be submitted.

In November, we had Ned's
Coffeehouse
for musicians and poets alike, to perform in the font of many with an open mike.

It was the largest coffeehouse that we've ever held and hope that this tradition will be upheld.

We have accomplished so much in the last three years and we still hope to do more. All the peer leaders have worked hard together to try to make this school even better than it already is and we have formed a special bond. We have had many great memories and will continue having more in the future. Good luck to everyone.

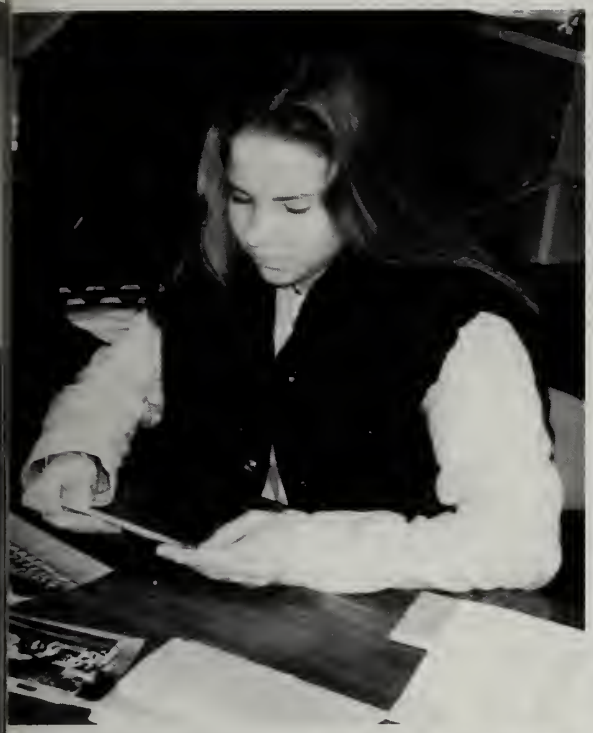
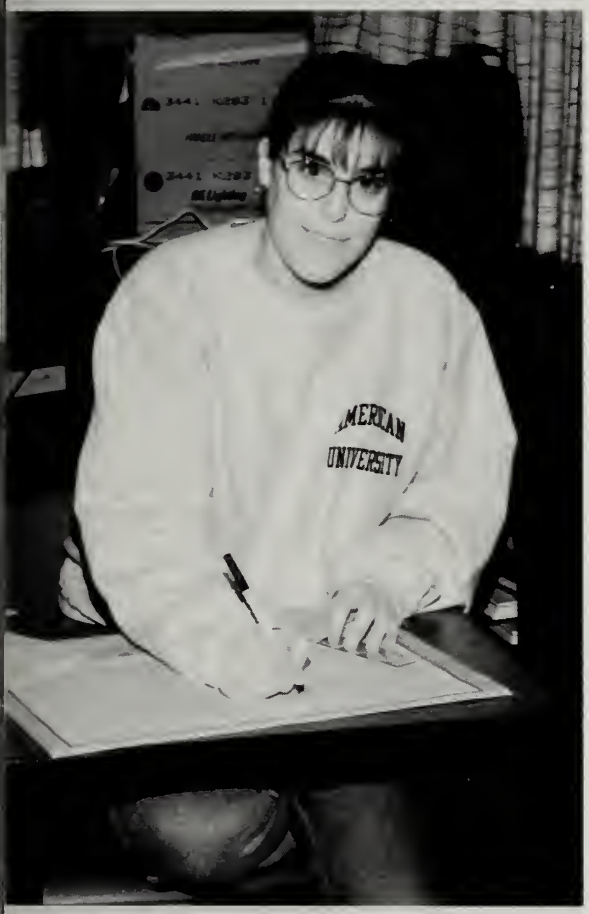
The People Behind the Book

First Row (L-R): Sarah Gottlieb, Kara Vautour, and Paige Hubbell
Middle Row: Erin Hagens, Amy Johnson, Sam Erickson, Meg Grady, Erin Kelly, General Editor Lauren Grimley, Photo Edito
Leigh Roderick, and Amanda Aho
Top Row: Ariel Silvestry, Stephanie Graff, Business Editors Jenn Goldman and Stephanie Day, General Editor Christine Passle
Beth Culhane, Yearbook Advisor Mr. Kaplan, and Diane Hunter

Lauren Grimley gazes pensively at the computer.

Stephanie Day expresses her true feelings for Christine Passler.





Sam Erickson shows her enthusiasm for cropping pictures.

Amanda Aho decides what pictures should be in her layout.

Jenn Goldman diligently works on the ad pages.

Each member of the '98 Yearbook Staff has developed a unique spatial relationship to room 301. Steph , Ariel, and Erin are of course together on the left side of the room(they actually do a lot of work), Amanda maintains her fierce independence in the far left corner, her work spread-out on a table. Diane is a floater, but has done her share. Beth camps out in center-back, but she is available for various tasks. Sarah and Paige hover around the computers and seem mesmerized by the big screen, but they like to conference. Meg, Erin, Kara, and Sam use the front-left computers, Dara right-front, and Amy is self-contained and very hard-working in the right-corner. The inimitable editors: Lauren(she must be tired of me) and Chris(she has taken to the job very quickly), Stephanie and Jenn(the Business Police; they don't need me at all), and Leigh(Boy!, Am I impressed!) are omnipresent if not omniscient at this point in time.

Actually the room seems like it is on automatic pilot. They have pre-set the controls and I'm along for the ride and art and technical support. No complaints, the way I like it.

Bob Kaplan

Editors

First I'd like to start off with thanking you for reading this page. I'm not going to tell my fairytale story, though there were some miraculous moments in my yearbok career. The first of these was that Mr. Kaplan ever picked me to be on the staff, the second was that he never threw me off! HA! Honestly, though we've all had some sketchy moments, when we could have rung each other's necks, but in the end it was worth it.

I thoroughly enjoyed working with all the editors (Christine you're the best!), the wonderful and patient staff, Mr Kaplan, who is probably in dire need of his summer vacation by now, and lastly the members of the class of '98 for creating the memories this book has tried to capture.

Finally, I need to recognize those behind-the-scenes, people who've helped me survive senior year. Okay, here's my Oscar list: I'd like to thank my parents for putting up with my tempertantrums and late nights, my friends for having to deal with my absent mindedness (Emily Gore can personally attest to this), also my teachers and the janitors with whom we spent many late nights after school.

I wish you all the best of luck in what you pursue, and remember to keep things in perspective.

Wow! I cannot beleive that the book is done! I want everyone to know, (or at least the people that actually read this page) that we, the editors, worked really hard on this book. Lauren, (the best co-editor and friend in the world), and I stayed way past school hours to make sure we made the deadlines. Steph and Jenn, meticulously worked on the ads so that they would be as you wanted them. Leigh rushed around trying to get the best possible pictures to put in the yearbook. I will never forget the staff. The staff went out of their way to make sure that their pages were completed for the deadline. Who could forget Mr. Kaplan? Well, what can I say...what a guy!!! He always remained calm, when the rest of us were spazzing over the deadline, or at least, I was spazzing over deadline.

I want to thank...

Amy J for doing those awesome, yet difficult collages.

My friends, especially Emily Gore, for putting up with my attitude...I don't know how you put up with me.

My parents, for living with a mad woman until the yearbook was completed.

I hope that the yearbook matches your expectations, I know it matched mine. Good Luck, Class of '98!

Christine

Yearbook, Yearbook, Yearbook! What can I say? It's over! YEAH! Yearbook has been my most stressful, yet most fun class of my senior year. I made some great friends and learned a lot about myself and everyone else. I have so many people to thank, without them I never would have kept my sanity. First, Stephanie-WOW!-it was like a rollarcoater yet we survived the ride. We make a great business team. Christine and Lauren, you guys are the best! The yearbook looks great. A special thanks to Mr. Kaplan for putting up with me without hiring a hit man. It was great being able to joke around with you. It cut the stress and tension. Thanks to Amy J. and the rest of the staff for helping out with the Holiday Ball. I can't believe we pulled it off. Thanks for a great year and for all the memories. Good Luck next year! "May the shwartz be with you!"

Jenn

Being co-business editor of the yearbook has been more than I bargained for. Who knew that I would set off the security alarm at school during the car wash? At least I had my picture taken with a police cruiser. Ads are a whole other story. When Jenn I started, we had no idea what we were doing. It was a good thing that we all went to yearbook camp. We learned so much about how to put the book together and about each other.

Then there was the Holiday Ball. Three months went into planning and preparing, and it turned out to be great. Thanks for surviving the coat check, Mrs. Plante! And thank you to everyone who helpled me out, especially those of you who weren't even on yearbook!

Mr. Kaplan: You put so much of your time into helping us sell Ball tickets and yearbooks. We couldn't have had a great book without you. And Mr. Richardson, thanks for letting me into your class everyday and for those blank checks. . .

Last but not least, I owe it all to my fellow yearbook editors. Christine, Lauren, Leigh and Jenn--you guys were behind me the whole way. It is amazing that we didn't kill each other. Good luck to next year's editors. You'll learn more than you've ever wanted to know about being BUSY. LOVE and thanks, Steph

"Of course I want to do it, Mr. Kaplan." I answered. I loved taking pictures and I wanted to be part of something important, the yearbook. Thus I wanted to be photo-editor and I thought I could do it. I was so happy that day, but then the next day came with many assignments. I was overwhelmed with the various photos that had to be taken. Eventually, things sorted out, but it wasn't easy. With this, I must say what every previous editor has said in the past, "I didn't know what I was getting into."

Thanks...

to everyone who helped me take pictures, especially Sam to Christine and Lauren for staying the extra hours to put together a great yearbook to Mom, for making those runs to CVS to Dave, for putting up with my "trauma-raumas"

Our yearbook is one of the few things that will enable us to look back on these years. I only hope that this one will live up to everyone's expectations. We, the editors, sure did our best. Thank you Mr. Kaplan for putting up with me and my complaints!! I love the class of '98-GOOD LUCK!!

ODE TO #3

Ten years have gone by in a second

A lot sooner than we all expected

It's time to write the final rhyme

and say good-bye for the last time

Although his two sisters were athletic and smart

Matt was determined to surpass their mask

He would match them in effort, hustle, and ardor

Because #3 always has to try harder

His family is proud of him especially his Dad and Mom

Who could have predicted the man he has become

On the stage and the field

Matt's talents were always revealed

It's been years of work and years of fun

Years of memories for everyone

Two wonderful daughters and one excellent son

Three down, that's it, we're done

Success

To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded.

leafing behind

We came into the high school four years ago feeling completely uprooted from the lives we had in middle school. We were now in high school, and it was time to replant ourselves in a whole new ground.

In the last four years we've dug our roots deep in the soil of Westborough High. From saplings, timid and unsure, we've grown into the confident and self-aware group of young adults that stand ready now to receive our diplomas.

In just months we will be spreading our limbs and beginning again in a new soil, a new place. Like the leaves, rustled by the summer breezes, high school will too soon be forgotten with the coming of the fall.
